Opinion

A's sustainable culture

The University of Michigan is a leader in promoting sustainability efforts. The University has been recognized for its commitment to reducing its environmental footprint and implementing sustainable practices. This commitment is rooted in the University's mission to create a more sustainable and equitable world.

---

Military sexual assault: prevalence cause for concern

Military sexual assault

The Department of Defense conducts periodic surveys to assess the prevalence of sexual assault in the military. These surveys help identify trends and areas where additional efforts are needed to prevent and respond to sexual assault. The prevalence of sexual assault in the military is a significant concern, and it is important to continue to monitor and address this issue.

---

Vaness Rychlik is a social work graduate student.

Vanessa Rychlik

---

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Framing permaculture

The Michigan Daily

---

EDITORIAL BOARD